George Ray

POTTERY LOCATIONS

Drury Lane

Start Year

1846

End Year

1855

Country

England

Location

Longton

Notes

George Ray is an obscure Longton potter who produced ware in the 1840's and 1850's. He registered two high relief pitchers/jugs. The pitcher known as Dancers or The Polka was registered April 21, 1852. A pitcher that depicts a bird nest with chicks being fed by the adult birds was registered October 31, 1854. Pieces were simply marked with the registry diamond. Many were decorated.

Enlarge Image

Related Shapes

Unknown Tableware